

The Leaking Truth

25th Post - Everything Everywhere All At Once - But in REAL LIFE!! 5th Dimension Exists here!

June 18, 2024

This is going to read as nuts to some people but for those who understand what the 5th dimension means mathematically you will have a prime example of math playing out in real life now. So, I went back to a prior employer, I'm not going to say who at the moment, but I'll give you a clue, the letter "A". I'm really good at reading social engineering in real life and caught up another moment in time where, social engineering is playing out right in front of me, AGAIN! This time it's still all about getting my eSIM off my device and stealing my number from me, which technically may have already happened according to the chatter I hear which is really frustrating to me. People don't just point phones at people for no reason is the only example I'm going to lay out here tonight but let me tell you it's a red flag. The conversation lined up perfectly with what they had planned out in the 5D perfectly, so like my post title Everything Everywhere All At Once (good movie btw if you're looking for something mind bending that will help explain this post!) but that's technically how this is working. I found "badges" or "milestones" on my app for work that don't explain how I would have them when I didn't work for "them" during those times unless the 5D was actively being used, that's how I know what they are doing here and I'm not crazy. There's always crumbs I find spelling this out for me and documenting is all I can do for right now and this blog is one way of doing it because I know someone somewhere out there is paying attention to it! So, math nerds you have your proof the 5D works and is being used here on earth in my little simulation of life.

Spoiler alert, it's a doughnut just like my schedule is...
